Term 3 of 2018

Week 2

3rd August 2018

And another week flies by! The students have had a very creative week. With Mrs Nottingham and Sarah Anne on Wednesday, they designed and made window dioramas as part of our collaborative learning with Euchareena and Stuart Town schools. Jeannie Baker's books "Window" and "Where the Forest Meets the Sea" are our focus books for this week. The students can't wait to share their work with the other students via video conferencing next week. They are also working hard with Jackie and Robert to create our Recycled Art entry. You will be amazed when you see what they have created!

On Wednesday, Lea and I attended Essential Evaluation training in Canowindra. This has, along with the new financial system being implemented, created a lot more work for us both, but will lead to a more efficient education system in the future. Next week, we are in Blayney over 3 days for more training in the new financial system.

Next Friday, Felicity Smith is representing us at the District Athletics Carnival in Shot Putt. Good luck Flick!! Lea will be supporting the CSSSA as recorder, and Ms Erin Lamshead will be joining Mrs Carter on Friday (as I am in Blayney).

Next week is also Education Week, "Today's Schools Creating Tomorrow's World". The students are going to showcase their ideas about what the schools of the future might be like in next week's newsletter. As there will be a lot of staff disruption next week, we will be having our open day in Book Week, Week 5, Friday 24th August.

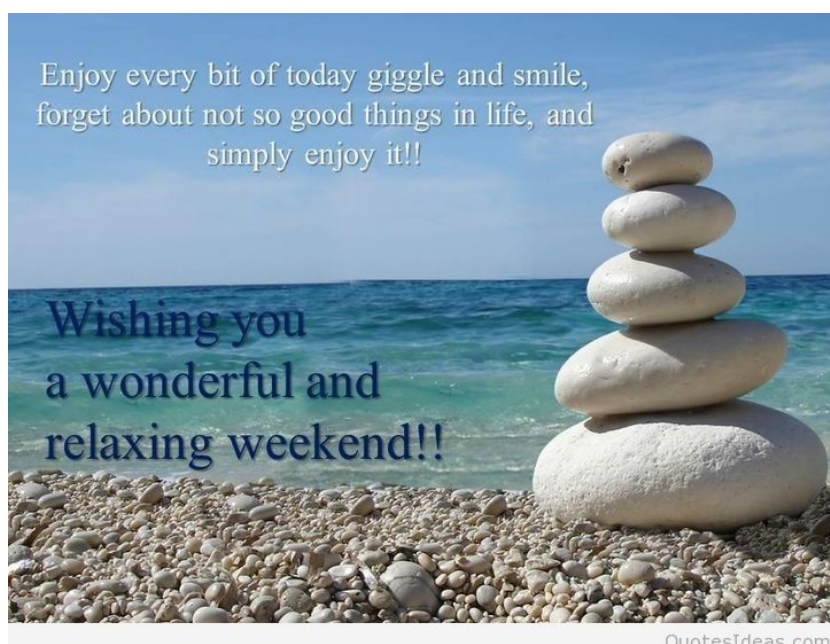

Speaking of Book Week, with the topic "Find Your Treasure", it is time to get your thinking caps on for your costumes for the Book Parade and Open Day. What is "treasure"? Is it always gold or money? Is it knowledge? Or experiences? Hmmmm ...

Now, what will I be coming as, and which book is MY treasure?

Just a reminder, if you know of any families with pre-school and school aged children who might be looking for a small school experience, please ask them to come and have a look at our lovely little school and see if we can meet their needs.

Have a wonderful weekend.
